To the fullest extent permissible by law, the materials on this website are provided as is and without warranty of any kind (either express or implied). TAL does not warrant that the website or its contents will be error and/or omission free or provided uninterrupted. Nor will TAL be liable for errors and/or omissions or interruptions to the website or for loss or damage suffered as a result of reliance on any information or document available on this website.

To the fullest extent permissible by law, TAL specifically disclaims and excludes any and all liability that may arise for any and all direct, indirect, incidental, consequential, loss of profit or special damages that may arise from the access to, reliance on and/or use of this website or the contents thereof.

The website is a training information management tool and is prepared for the use of financial advisers and candidates undertaking their professional year. No representation is given that the website suffices for the purposes of any of your legal or regulatory obligations, including your obligations as the holder of an Australian financial services licence ("AFSL") or as a representative of a licence holder, or your obligations under the Corporations (Work and Training Professional Year Standard) Determination 2018 ('Determination'). It is your obligation to ensure you meet all your obligations, including those arising as the holder of an AFSL or as a representative of the holder of an AFSL (e.g. general financial services obligations and AFSL conditions). You remain responsible for keeping all records required by the Determination, Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) or any other law or regulation in relation to the training, experience and education completed by the candidates during their Professional Year, and for assessing whether the candidates have fulfilled all training, experience and education requirements of the Determination or other regulation.

You acknowledge and agree that you access and use this website at your own risk.
